Last week we gave you a sneak peek of the invited artists for the 36th National Cowboy Poetry Gathering. This week, as preliminary brochures make their way to mailboxes, we're pulling back the curtain on the full lineup of ticketed shows and workshops!

Ticketed shows are curated combinations of poets, songwriters, bands, and storytellers. This is your chance to see your favorite performers on the same stage. And workshops are your chance to get in on the action: from writing poetry to braiding rawhide, cartooning to cooking, you'll take home some new skills as a souvenir. These shows and workshops require a separate ticket and are NOT included in your day pass, so plan accordingly. Single-day and 3-day passes give you access to daytime sessions of poetry, music, storytelling, films and more. It's an aural and visual feast you won't want to miss!

Tickets go on sale to Western Folklife Center members starting September 3, and to the general public on October 3. Become a member before August 30, 2019 to take advantage of our members-only presale. To purchase or renew a membership, click here.

And if you're not following us on Facebook and Instagram, you're missing lots of music and poetry you won't find anywhere else. It's our way of keeping the Gathering going year-round. Check your inbox next week for a special announcement about the theme of the 36th National Cowboy Poetry Gathering. See you in Elko in January!

The mission of the Western Folklife Center is to use story and cultural expression to connect the American West to the world.
